Website

We are a family run boutique holiday hostel (in the converted stone farm buildings) and Georgian family house in circa 4 acres of woodland set among two rivers beside the town of Moville in Lough Foyle in the northerly Inishowen peninsula of County Donegal in Ulster. The main River (with Ireland's oldest bridge in front of our house) is called the Bredagh River. Gulladuff House and lands was a small working farm until 40 years ago. We have pigs (most of the time), hens, geese, ducks and goats! We are establishing an organic garden and have a garden cleared in the old orchard. We are also making riverside walks.

Recently some friends have begun setting up a Eco-hub on some of the land using permaculture principles and intend to facilitate training. This land was cleared and integrates with riverside walks that we are facilitating with an overlapping local group called Celebrate Water with a bird watching hide being erected. A River Trust has also been established recently.

Behaviour

Our family welcomes all wwoofers and we enjoy the cultural exchange and sharing of knowledge which has almost always been very rewarding for us as hosts and wwoofers. We will ask people to leave immediately in cases of rudeness and insulting or antisocial behaviour; or not assisting.

Accommodation

The house is quite old and may be cold for people not use to it, we are in the process of insulating the house room by room. We do not use oil heating, only fires to heat the house but we provide plenty of blankets and hot water bottles

Moville Boutique Hostel is on Facebook.
